My dear Mr. Peabody:

I received yesterday the respectfully prepared copy of the report of the expedition of the Interior and associates of the Geological Survey, and was glad to see that the expedition was successful in its object. I think you will find it very interesting and valuable. I have no doubt that the results of the expedition will be of great service to the Geological Survey and the country. I am glad to hear that you will be able to visit the country and see the results of the expedition.

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 4, 1900.

My dear Lady Dawson:

I received yesterday the beautifully prepared copy of Memorial Addresses by the friends and associates of Sir William, at the special meeting convened at the University. I thank you most sincerely for sending it to me.

There were many words of sorrow and regret expressed at the meeting of the Geological Society of America on account of the death of Sir William and the absence of your son. Sir William had many friends among the geologists and he will long live in the memory of those who personally knew him. I am very glad that I could have the great pleasure of seeing him at Metis last summer, and of meeting you again.

With sincere regret and sympathy, I remain,

Yours sincerely,

Charles Walcott

Lady Dawson,

Montréal, Canada.
