October 30th 1903.

Dearest Mother,

We have just seen Will depart, I thought he looked much the better for his week of quiet, & as Harrow has at last secured a cook who promises well, we shall hope that the weather will deal somewhat gently with them.

The delightful change in the weather to more mild & balmy temperature, must be very much in favour of your driving & walking with pleasure, & makes us regret every time I have to turn my feet homeward. Each day brings its own sort of small duties - This morning we must all early start to see Mr & Mrs Vaughan off.

I fear he is little if any better for his summer in the Adirondacks - & now goes on to Arizona - both he & his wife are very slow & sad hearted & he looks weak & ill, I was quite glad to see the train draw out of the station, he looked so like breaking down & yet - I have no doubt they were pleased to have some friends there - Peterson, the Coxes Mrs Clay & ourselves.

Received Clara's letter today you must be quite a very little party, & you are fortunate in having just the people you would most congenial last year.

We are having a small tea this A. M. for Mrs Caldwell & Mrs Durley & I only wish I had had the sense to have a big one & polish off all my social neglects at one strong blow - Kate looks very nice in her blue silk dress - it becomes her better than anything she has worn for a long time.

of the new gun points - for article Best ment - We have heard no more of your proposals - the work under's weather's has for mental has you for getting on fast - with his work - I like articles pertaining after the reaches Vancouver.

My new moral review -

Mrs Whinnier likes her with whom I to her - business has been showing her articles in a fine style - really she is a wonderfully capable & managing girl with my lettering has she has had over all the articles she ever's (cases) necessary & X read about and - every thing needing attention I proceed to send them to right, & the soon possibly need seeing out, - Mr. Robt. Thru 20 to be - you ought to be very comfortable with his, all ready is an excellent book - I so even and -

There is many people asking for you I suggesting when you will be back - how to leave - how this has been up a short time for two days had -

With much love
Anna
