Dear Lady Dawson

Dear I thank you very much for the pamphlets you have been good enough to send me. I have read with the greatest interest your late husband's beautiful theory of the Sabbath: it comes with special force from one who combined scientific authority with insight into Scriptural interpretation. For myself, I lose no opportunity of insisting that - however much latitude may be allowed as to details of Sabbath observance - the fundamental principle of the fourth commandment, with its witness for the duty of contemplative rest as on a par with duties of honesty and purity, is among the fundamental obligations of morality: laxity in this is the special vice of this age.

It is very gratifying to me to read what you kindly say about the influence of my recent lectures. My reception in Montreal was most cordial and encouraging.

With best wishes of the Season Believe me

Sincerely Yours

Richard G. Moulton
