

Mansourgh of the April
20 Louis Street. Melice

General Sir
My dear Mrs Dawson
I was so glad to hear from you and I am very pleas'd you sent the little book about these Plymouth people are fearfull doing much good but we must hope the Lord will see fit to disentangle them from these errors. I have enclosed a note to my dear friend Mrs Hawkey. Hope she may be in London whilst you are there. She has a meeting at Madame Elies offt. La Mansourgh

the great Court Milliners on the sunny side of Regent Street but I forget the number You cannot fail to see the shop as her name is on a black board with brass letters at the bottom of her window half way down the street nearly opposite Lewis & Allenbys. — but I am sure if you will leave yr card of address with the note, Madame Slie will forward it or you can hear from Madame Slie Miss
Paukeys direction —

976/10/2

She was one of my most intimate friends before I was married but I have been travelling about the world so much I do not think I have seen her for 10 years - we worked together at the Bible Class & some schools and I am sure she will gladly hail you as my friend - My women's Mothers meeting takes place to-day & I have much to occupy me.
I must send my excuse for a longer note if you have time do call

at my dear Mother's John Campbells 15 Park Lane He is one who devotes his spare time to the Lord his wife a true Scotch woman a Presbyterian or rather free Irish will be glad to see I will write by this mail to them about you: the house is behind the back of Wellingtons 15 doors up Park Lane from Piccadilly This is a note sheet full of directions but I hope it will be as useful as I wish it with kindest regards to every
