

Red path
The Young
Remembrance of all
June 20th

My dear friend
The Young
Remembrance of all
June 20th

My dear friend
The Young
Remembrance of all
June 20th

My very dear Mrs Dawson.

What shall I say to you for the beautiful "Memories" every tracing of which has been done for me with kindly and loving thoughts. Tell your dear daughters with my love I admire their Etching, and am proud to call to each -

th mine -

Sometimes guests are quite welcome to take the Menus home with them - but sometimes not - when I use these I shall almost jealously keep guard over them.

I received such pretty Christmas Cards from all of you, and some loving notes, which were most welcome, I fair would reply to each, had I not so much letter writing, but I thank each one, for his, and her, very kind remem-brance - Franklin sent me a nice long note, he will be obliged to come and see how we look when in better order, than when he was here, the sickness is in; but the pale looks more like a barren - My dear husband has unspoiled his looks

So he is happy.

Mrs Drummond's three boys have been with us the last four weeks, in one more they return to school, I think they have enjoyed their holidays. The weather is charming. The gardeners are very transplanting & making improvements. My de delicate sister keeps well, & we are very happy together.

We send love to the three Doctors, & to the young people & the darling grandchildren - also to Mrs Carpenter. For yourself love in large measure, and telling thanks & a sweet kiss, fr