My dearest Anne

Yesterday I received a telegram signed Ann Baynes & without address asking if there were any vacant houses here & their rents. As we were about to go out during the week to the village to inquire We found that there were two beyond the Church was the Post Office £25. & two small ones each having four beds & two sitting rooms. With kitchen a good deal more the Campbells than the house we occupied last year.

In the evg. I returned an answer by telegram to Mrs Baynes at the Collyer — although I could not think of any thing more likely than Mrs G. B.'s baby being sick & that it was he who wanted the information. It is of no use: my journey into detailed information as it will likely be too late. She will have left if it be a necessity of the kind I have conjectured. I may say the one nearest to the C^d is very good. £10. The other £15. is small & neat. I know nothing of its charms.

I had yesterday a letter from papa written on Thursday before you knew of our change of residence. He spoke of sending me more money to be here tonight. I hope the letter I wrote on Friday will be received on time & to prevent his sending it. but the Curney is at the door waiting to take us to Mrs Lanes to tea. but shall try to go to the P. Q before returning.
Mr Lury R. & E. have been dining at Mrs Lanes. & Catherine & I have just returned from a drive to Remond de laup.

After tea at Mrs Lewis's So can add no more.
The Cook's are waiting for this. I don't know whether there is a letter for me tonight yet.

We are all well & continuing to enjoy our visit.

Yours affec^t

Mother

Cacoon. I'm very well.
