

Robbinston Me
Sept 17th

Dear Darling Anna
I received your letter last evening and was surprised and delighted, glad, and sorry all at the same time.
I laughed, and cried,
and have not yet recovered from the shock. I could scarcely sleep last night.

you thinking of you and woke very early this morning with the same thought.

My dear Anna I am very very glad that this happiness has come to you. that you have won the love of one who is so worthy and I think he is a very fortunate man and very much to be congratulated.

Dearest Anna. Will you forgive me when I tell you that a selfish feeling mingled with with my joy for you, the thought that with this new claimant for your love poor little, would be forgotten. I should not tell you this but I have been so used to "jess" all my sins to you, and I am very jealous of the love of the few whose affection I prize. We shall I hope be in Montreal next week, and I shall be very impatient till I see you and find whether you are much

changed since you are "engaged". I have no time to write more for my little cousin is waiting to take this to the post.

With much love and many prayers for our Father's blessing upon you and yours

Believe me dear Anne
As ever your loving friend

Mary J. Hunt.
