My dear Anna,

My thanks for your kind letter, received some days ago. My chief work here is in connection with report & does not so much depend upon seeing people as on passing away in quiet, other matters counting more or less as interruptions, nevertheless I have seen some people & made a few calls, with more I am sorry to say in prospect

I then also called at the Luff's & have seen Sir Charles once or twice. All these things take time, as you may imagine, but how fortunately I think the work of the heavy work is over & while waiting for a few days I shall perhaps be able to make calls etc.

I have a provisional invitation from the Waynes of Lorne to spend two or three days in the Hebrides, where he is going next week & may accept it if there should be a sufficient interlude. If I can arrange

I called on the Marguises of Loure last Saturday & received a very kind invitation to lunch, on Sunday with him & Princess Louise, I being the only guest. Last night I dined at Lord Derby's - a small party, but very stately. Lord Derby is, you know Lord Stewley's brother & is supposed to be possibly the richest man in England. Tonight I am to dine with Phillips's, my old school of Quines friend, & in the afternoon I have to go to the Royal Society meeting & be introduced there this I hope to be able to make a call en route at Edinburgh, where Ella Kemp is very anxious that I should converse.

 Several people here have inquired very kindly about Rankine, as to his whereabouts etc, but so far I have not happened to hear of anything which would be to his advantage, or in his favor

Yours
George
