My dear Anna,

I was in Montreal
last Sunday, as I dare say you may have heard already from head quarters. Bernard I thought was looking much better than when I was down last. Mother was suffering a good deal from indigestion.
William has returned from his siege at Fother Point & does not appear to be any the worries. I have seen him once. Florence has had a short visit from Miss Sterling or a two day - a very simple & uneventful person I should judge.

I have been busy as usual but weary in storing off the general pressure of office work, which is not very interesting.
 We have a light coating of snow here at present, but it seems to show signs of going off again. I trust that Sam & Eric are both doing well, but it seems to me that

That windy weather went Carpenter on a good deal in doors.

Yours
George
