Sir Wm B. D. his sister's marriage

Montreal
Dec 9th 1894

Dearst Love,

At last we have had a heavy fall of snow and carriages are no longer to be seen on the streets. It must have snowed nearly all night.
Yesterday was fine and Clare again went for a ride - Mr Beck taking her and Hester out.
In the evening ^{Clare & Ruth} they went to Trapalou, where the boarders were giving an entertainment to non-boarders. Miss Baker had gone to the Bays for tea and so I walked over with the girls
- including ^{Muriel} Hester and Rachel.
Clare had arranged with Mrs

Peck to provide an escort one way if Mrs P. provided on the other way.

If you have not heard of it already you will be surprised to know that Anna McD has been married to that fellow who has been running after so long. He went down to P. Ed. Id. and they were married by ~~a~~ R. C. priest!

Fancy Mr. W. C.'s feelings.
 I am told that he knew ~~nothing~~ about it until the whole thing was over. She has not a house of her own, but is living with his mother and sisters.

Mr McD. never comes near me now, and I have seen him only once or twice since I came from Bristol. Whether he is afraid that I will talk laboratory to him or not I do not know. Certainly he seems to have given up all idea of doing anything in that line for the present. He is a curious man.

I believe he went to hear Mrs Corns - Wilson at the Y. M. C. A. one Sunday afternoon and also that he went to hear Moody when he was here.

I have twice fallen asleep trying to write this and must go out for a little airing and see whether I can meet the children coming from Sunday School

Your loving Bernard

The Drapalgar bills hatched up to-day in the nursery where no doubt they have been since the middle of November.
