My dear Anna,

I am just returning Philadelphia & am glad to know that you have got safely so far. There is not any prospect that I shall visit Washington shortly. Whatever truth there may be in the newspaper reports about further negotiations, refers to discussion of a Commission of Claims or damages, a financial & legal question about which I am happy to say I know nothing.
Be sure you do not hurry home from your trip too soon. If anything goes well, you will only find when you get back that you might just as well have staid another week. The weather here keeps cold, but spring cannot now be very long delayed, & with a southerly wind or rain the snow must soon wear off.

I saw William & Victor today & hear that the rest of the family is well. My cold is better, but with fears of rheumatism I have been religiously taking care of myself & doing nothing in particular not necessary. I hope

Bernard is well & enjoying his holiday.
Why did you particularly choose Asheville as a spot worth going to? I should suppose it to be a sort of invalid place or specially attractive

Yours
George
