

Re Poppy's
Convulsions
Taylor & Gordon,
Architects.

Union Buildings,
43 St. Francois Xavier Street,
Montreal, June 30th 1896

AND LONDON, ENG

Dearest Love,

I posted a letter to you this morning, but since then met Dr Browne and had some conversation about Poppy with him. He thinks that Poppy's having had no return of the convulsions is very encouraging and altogether spoke very hopefully. He has seen cases where children have had convulsions quite as bad as Poppy had, and of ~~the~~ apparently the same character and have entirely recovered.

Mrs Browne has been ill and very much pulled down in strength (Canadian Cholera), but hopes to get off to Riv. du Soud next week.

Taylor & I hope to have a gala time as plans to-morrow (Dominion Day) and have accomplished a little this afternoon.