

Little Melis
June 27th 78

Dearest Bernard -

A cold & windy morning, became a lovely day, Baby & I had a very pleasant morning on the shore, keeping out of the way of the army of children. The little sons of Peter got the whole lot into a fighting game, which ended up rather badly, I think we shall have to put a stop to that, when there are so many - Mrs Boney invited me to drive in the afternoon, so baby & I went as far as the Point & back. The Pecks have arrived & really they are a lotter the settlement is too thick now - Emily B. has a Mr Kettle, A. B. C. & W. B. of the Y. M. C. C. as tutor. He is said to be devoted to sports, & altogether capital he is now at Hartfield for their conference - Mr Fleet is also here, says you are to look after the astronomer Royal & also that Taylor thinks you have not more than a weeks work, that can be done now - That is good news if it be true - I went to see Dr Kemp tonight & his candid assurance that he had never seen such a thing as Jacksonian & & only knew it in last weeks, & his evident surprise at the doctors allowing me to bring baby here, were not reassuring - He said he wished Braune wd write to him & he really seemed to know my little - I don't think Deeks could tell him better what to do, as he seems likely, but he thought - I don't know if he could with out - perhaps - I Deeks was evidently afraid of it - he said he would be witness to that cold water on his chest - I finally saw "No one knew anything much about it - anyway, & the only thing was to put him down, shaking of you and of not decide he was not - Deeks - if only he was - he was sure of that if they was an attack he would not lose a minute in getting her, if he were within call - for think he would require assistance as he may really undergo his throes - Friday - A charming day - I went the streets to church in the hot sun do not like to risk having them cut, as in the house - Baby & I had a quiet - warning - I let her take her to the shore after dinner & soon a cicle to the top - then went down myself - & read excitement - accompanied by Charles observing a baby's presence dignified among the tops of the bottles which he tried to drive it - out - & see but could not, & it - refused & flammarion's account - see & rocks his I was not & sleeping, by the time, heard of - on her head on - & two seconds in the scene, & the latter was to about - it - however, he carried it - out - by the tail & shook it - on the head to the great - wrath of the guardians

It was an ugly business con- vention to sell it to the Indians - but finally he bargained for a box & arrows of majestic size.

Rain tonight quite heavy & in showers - The new minister goes out today - & Kate reported him very good - Clara had a bad headache & did not approve, but Kuth upheld Kate.

I shall try & have a reasonable list of what I need tomorrow - I classify Mary Taylor w^d cook after it for one.

By the way Mrs. Molson wants a piece of black material marked as being like Clara's & Ruth's dress & which is in the window box in our room - it is a decided  original strip. She has Kelli's dress like it - I want to remake it for the autumn, so be sure to let her have it.

I shall hope to hear from you tomorrow evening.

The Sunday makes the time seem long - also English letters ought to be to be read - Our Fleet says mother's cottage is a
"revelation" -

With love
Anna.

I have written a note to Mrs. Nicholson -
