Dearest Bernard!

So glad to get a letter from you & to hear all goes on well, especially that yr lecture was a success & I am very it is a insight of your mind curious that Conrad always seems to miss anything that seems to his advantage, but after all a devotion to games has been a staple of many noble minds, & indeed as a rule the man of action looks larger than the thinker - Did you notice in scanning Henry Drummond's life that he ever been at bargaining & used to go to Auction sales & always have pockets full of nicknacks & purchases it reminded me of Bernard & his propensity - We went to church today & heard Mr Sherard!! who is here as temporary pastor preaching a new one - He looks more cadaverous than when with us - his sermon was very good - I quite intended to go again tonight - but mother wanted to go out - I walk this

11. M - I was really too tired to go again. Don't think of selling that telegraph stock till you see about the encasement of the sides I think I can give you some more - I had not time to make up my list of payments due from now till June before I left, but as soon as I do I will know how far I can help you out & there is always the possibility of that wretched property on Madison St. being sold in spring - I think I will give you early till the end of the session & then settle it up as seems best, you have so much on hand now? Did you find out about the Beaver Hall prop.
& its present value?

If it comes in I wish you would have Mrs. M. to claim it will give her a little chance to act & Mrs. M. will like it all the better if she has you near to her self & Clare as head lady - It is of course prevented from being her before - I am quite sorry to have missed Mr. Smith's last Sunday he is really powerful & able & a man who stands on his feet - after hearing such a lot as he, one cannot but however

I am amused at the exterior of financial houses here there are no end to them & all well kept - outside, & the streets to give a middle I suppose you have been able to get the iron for Cassin, I am quite sure you had to continue it - has some time in hope of its being felling but I if not - we must have some as said - I sh<sup>d</sup> like to have consulted the president rather with it -

Monday - The fair weather, we went up to the University - I saw the <sup>new</sup> library, which I took a good at - the <sup>new</sup> series <sup>of</sup> books within - Barber's vacation is on - <sup>the</sup> <sup>new</sup> <sup>series</sup> <sup>of</sup> <sup>books</sup> Barham is away - This afternoon it was quite stormy - we did not have any part in the afternoon but - we go I will be in Thank God the fair has been better - <sup>the</sup> <sup>new</sup> <sup>series</sup> <sup>of</sup> <sup>books</sup> wants me to write to so many people that I must finish this as I - so - how to alter the dress children I wear a small book for - which gives an account of the best to wear in work - & can hand it to Lass to read to Mary's the others, as Miss Baker will as it is not long - I was surprised! - We were so pleas'd to get Miss Wotery - As Miss Street collected! by the little book - which I think is delightful with this place is improving them much - I can make quite as much as I care to get so clear a pace I begin to think I am a hand ful of - I find it so easy to get at the part of a new place - I will be much love

Anna
