Dearest,

We had a beautiful trip down the river. I had no idea that it was so full of islands & turns & points an intricate channel indeed, but - there are buoys & stakes & lights enough now, it is like sailing down a stakeed out path.

This place is so most quaint, & old world like - only it is sad to see the English population dying out - If only some of the young people would make money & come back & beautify & improve the country

it would be a mercy.

It really is a certification, to thoroughly investigate, seek a place - This a. m. a heavy fog prevents our seeing much.

"I have already met
Col. Hanson & Mrs H.

The school is very comfortable looking - Mrs
L. looks much stronger & better - I want to have a look at the market, which I believe is our early - Ever is vi / Great- feathers & takes every thing vi / with her keen little eyes - love to all

affectionately
Luna
