Professor B. J. Harrington
McGill University.

Dear Sir,

I am very delighted to make you know that the 24 fragments you sent me by post, have reached safely my hands.
I set to work directly in order to return them, prepared as you requested, to morrow week at the least.

You may rely upon my desire of giving you as complete satisfaction as lies in my power, & bear in mind that the subsequent orders shall meet with the same care & Diligence.

To avoid delay I would be grateful if you send me by return of Post the remaining fragments of rock intended for your investigation.

Believe me, ^{dear Sir} Yours most truly
