Dear George,

Your last letter
with account of your journey to French River has come to hand,
I sympathize with
you in the change of plans for the summer, and can not help regretting it
very much; but trust it will be for the best.

I shall attend

are just now suffering
defeats on all hands,
and much more
reasonable views will soon prevail. I send a pamphlet just received, on the foldings of stocks in collaboration, which may interest you.

Your copy of Whittaker's book on feet, papers has arrived, but I scarcely think it will be sent it on by book post, unless you say so.

I have this day
transferred to you, at half \$1000 in Western bonds, taking the price out of the savings bank they yield $6\frac{1}{2}$ per cent, and are worth 4 per cent premium, so that it will be a good

when I have a little time to the opening of the Secret
letters,

Jurors has sold all the copies
he had of your report, and the Ottawa people have actually given all
the Remains away,
so that it is already out of print. 9

have sent to Dawson
that he had better
advertise that he will buy copies from the Ms Ps and Mrs
when have got them.

Had a letter
today from Belt, the glacier man, who is greatly pleased with your report, and wrote to say that he hopes to be here in July. The glaciers
