

the circumstances at all need I need heard that P. P. has mentioned it to you & that it refers to these things & that are above them may become very probably in week or
 so. I have not told you that I am writing. I do not think it wise to appear to make much of it.

reached Newberns safely on Sat. night, here B. making on Sunday my wife, his two frequent visitors - a small party, they all go to Church & taking a lace train to the Coast - since the only Compartments sitting above on the rocks. showing a marked difference of temperature and not as we have expected. as do show a distance. There next heat is tomorrow

 Sunday

N. Y. where they hope to be today & tomorrow & on the 28th & 29th at Philadelphia (Paster's estate). This is the ~~present~~ address we have, but for this letter will be permitted as they direct. From what we see in the papers this may we surmise that it is not improbable that you may have to go to Washington.
 In some ways this may be pleasant but I fear it will mean hard work & an interruption to your present plans that will be irritating. I will be glad however if it will enable you to give us then a short visit as I am just a little anxious about you.

picture. fr. the fact that on Monday - when he was at the Museum - while he was talking to Prof: Penhallow he lost the power of articulation for a few minutes - This soon passed off but Prof: P. was somewhat alarmed & sent for Berners who brought him home in a sledge, altho: he really looked & felt as well as ever he did. Anna however kept on sat my - with a certain degree of anxiety & asked me to send for Dr: Blackwell & see what he thought.
 He came late Sat: night, listened to papa's account. He said that doubtless it had been pressure on the brain but so very very slight that it was of small importance by Capi as a definite note of warning there any overstrain or overfatigue but cause a recurrence. I he thought him to admit a bible lesson he had promised for Sunday, but not succeeding in persuading papa he yielded on promise that he would not go out in the morn-drive both the 1st & 2nd the hole. He also read a paper at the N.H. Socy last night here without saying anything to papa <sup>or the wife</sup> though it right to go with him on both these occasions. I truly he appears to be perfectly well.

 Naturally I hope that now he feels the need for self Control when tempted to over himself. I have told you the full truth so please do not unnecessarily alarm yourself. I do not think I will have mentioned
