Dear Rankine

The morning
opened somewhat dusky; but the day has since passed and I hope has been pleasant. Mamma is naturally a little depressed but

from a view of God
and hope for your speedy return.

Anna's letter
this morning is more cheerful. She thinks she has found good lodgings
and has hopes
for the Sanitarium
especially of oblation

will write, which he has promised
I do.

In clearing out
old furniture today
in old college residence
the nursing clubs
turned up and will be kept till
you return to use them.

Sweet Eva
Hope & cheer
and our voyage

To you

Love yours
