ROYAL VISIT OF H.R.H.
PRINCE OF WALES, 1919

Address of H. R. H. Prince
Wales -

119

The Governors, Corporation, Acting Principal and Fellows beg to offer Your Royal Highness a sincere and affectionate welcome to McGill University. They deeply appreciate the honour of Your Royal Highness' visit and the distinction you confer upon the University by graciously accepting its Honorary Degree. This memorable occasion naturally recalls to the minds of many who are present the honoured visit of our illustrious Sovereign to the University when, as Prince of Wales, he opened the Strathcona Medical Building in 1901.

The University feels that the time of Your Royal Highness' visit is most opportune in the history of the Empire. It has been remarked by an eminent historian that Great Britain seems, in the eighteenth century, to have acquired almost half the world in a fit of absence of mind. The potentiality of newly won possessions that then seemed too remote for real union remained long undiscerned. But now that potentiality is revealed and, again, a very distinct and growing feeling of Imperial nearness is replacing its opposite. The marvellous acceleration of travel has made more than ever available that personal knowledge of the constituent parts of the Empire which is of absolutely vital moment to the Empire's sound and stable development. It was Your Royal Highness' conviction of that truth, Sir, that prompted you by visiting Canada to ascertain what Canada really means.

The University rejoices in that Your Royal Highness' visit follows closely upon the victorious conclusion of a war that threatened to overwhelm the Empire and, through its prolonged course, taxed <sup>Empire's</sup> the material resources and spirit <sup>to the utmost</sup>. Canada promptly responded to the Empire's appeal for volunteers with loyal enthusiasm and unflinching determination. In that temper her men fought and fell. And the University is proud to remember that Your Royal Highness mingled with Canadian officers and men amid the perils of the front, to which your innate sense of duty led you. Your Royal Highness' frank and gracious disposition always made your presence very welcome and stimulating to them, and to those who have returned is now most happily given the grateful opportunity of welcoming you in their own land.

As might have been expected McGill University like all Universities responded to the Empire's call with alacrity and whole-heartedness. The ideals that were at stake in the war are particularly such as appeal to academic thought, temper and tradition. A noteworthy feature of the war record of the University is the first offer of a distinctive ~~Medical~~ ~~Medical~~ Hospital made by any Canadian University, which was gladly accepted by the military authorities. Of the University's past and present students more than two thousand five hundred went to the front; of the available number of its undergraduates, 67% per cent. In all, three hundred and ninety-eight won military distinction. The tale of dead is three hundred and fourteen; the Honour Rolls on which their names are inscribed, the University's most precious and stimulating possession. It is the privilege of the University to record that "in recognition of the noble and devoted service and sacrifice of McGill towards Canada's part in the great war", the Carnegie Corporation of New York gave the University the munificent sum of a million dollars.

As Your Royal Highness is aware McGill University is of recent origin and the fact of its growth in a young and rapidly developing country has made its influence all the more potent. It will celebrate its centenary in 1921. <sup>Among</sup> ~~As one of~~ the most prominent Universities of Canada it stands alone in being almost absolutely dependent for its existence on private benefactions. It owes its origin to the private endowment of a leading Montreal merchant whose name it bears; its development, to Montreal citizens imbued with James' McGill's spirit. McGill University is thus at once the creation as it is the pride of the city of Montreal, which is seen in the fact that in 1911 the city raised one million five hundred thousand dollars in aid of its funds. This sole relation gives it complete academic freedom, and has caused it to be regarded, in a sense, as the national University of Canada. ~~McGill University begs to assure your Royal Highness that it is thoroughly alive to the great demands made upon it by the recent and vast expansions of academic education. At the same time it will guard and cherish subjects~~ that have been of transcendent moment in the intellectual development of mankind in the past.

The University begs that Your Royal Highness will, on your return, convey to our illustrious Sovereign and our beloved Queen its most dutiful respects. And it hopes that your visit to Canada will be one of Your Royal Highness' most happy memories - a memory alike inspiring to you and to the country that has exhibited such intense loyalty to your person and to the throne.

The Governors, Corporation, Acting Principal and Fellows beg to offer Your Royal Highness a sincere and affectionate welcome to McGill University. They deeply appreciate the honour of Your Royal Highness' visit and the distinction you confer upon the University by graciously accepting its Honorary Degree. This memorable occasion naturally recalls to the minds of many who are present the honoured visit of our illustrious Sovereign to the University when, as Prince of Wales, he opened the Strathcona Medical Building in 1901.

The University feels that the time of Your Royal Highness' visit is most opportune in the history of the Empire. It has been remarked by an eminent historian that Great Britain seems to have acquired almost half the world in a fit of absence of mind, so little was the significance of her expansion in the eighteenth century understood. The potentiality of newly won possessions that then seemed too remote for real union remained long undiscerned. But now that potentiality is revealed and again a very distinct and growing feeling of Imperial nearness is replacing its opposite. The marvellous acceleration of travel has made more than ever available that largely increased intimate and personal knowledge of the constituent parts of the Empire by all classes which is of absolutely vital moment to the Empire's sound and stable development. It was Your <sup>Royal</sup> Highness' conviction of that truth, Sir, that prompted you by visiting Canada to ascertain what Canada really means.

The University rejoices in that Your Royal Highness' visit follows closely upon the victorious conclusion of a war that threatened to overwhelm the Empire and, through its prolonged course, taxed the material resources and spirit of every portion of the Empire to the uttermost. Canada promptly responded to the Empire's appeal for volunteers with loyal enthusiasm and faced the common danger with stern and unflinching determination to use all her power to achieve the victory of the sacred cause for which she strove. In that temper her men fought and fell, and from it sprang their heroism and tenacity in the field that are reflected on with justifiable pride by a grateful country. And the University is proud to remember that Your Royal Highness mingled with Canadian officers and men amid the perils of the front, to which your innate sense of duty led you. Your Royal Highness' frank and gracious disposition always made your presence very welcome and stimulating to them, and to those who have returned is now most happily given the grateful opportunity of welcoming you in their own land.

As might have been expected McGill University like all Universities responded to the Empire's call with alacrity and whole-heartedness. The ideals that were at stake in the war are particularly such as appeal to academic thought, temper and tradition. A noteworthy feature of the war record of the University is the first offer of a distinctive Medical Hospital made by any Canadian University. It was accepted by the military authorities and led to the formation of No. 3 Canadian General Hospital, which rendered most valuable service in France. Of the University's past and present students more than two thousand five hundred went to the front; of the available number of its undergraduates, 67 per cent. In all, three hundred and ninety-eight won military distinction. The tale of dead is three hundred and fourteen; the Honour Rolls on which their names are inscribed, the University's most precious and stimulating possession. It is the privilege of the University to record that "in recognition of the noble and devoted service and sacrifice of McGill towards Canada's part in the great war", the Carnegie Corporation of New York gave the University the munificent sum of a million dollars.

As Your Royal Highness is aware McGill University is of recent origin as compared with time-honoured Universities in Europe. But the fact of its growth in a young and rapidly developing country has made its influence all the more potent. It will celebrate its centenary in 1921. As one of the most prominent Universities of Canada it stands alone in being almost absolutely dependent for its existence on private benefactions. It owes its origin to the private endowment of a leading Montreal merchant and public-spirited citizen, whose name it bears; its development, to Montreal citizens imbued with James McGill's spirit. McGill University is thus at once the creation as it is the pride of the city of Montreal, which is seen in the fact that in 1911 the city raised one million five hundred thousand dollars in aid of its funds. This sole relation gives it complete academic freedom, and has caused it to be regarded, in a sense, as the national University of Canada, which is borne out by the statement that a very large percentage of its two thousand students have always come from outside the Province of Quebec. McGill University begs to assure Your Royal Highness that it is thoroughly alive to the great demands made upon it by the recent and vast expansions of academic education and that it is exerting itself to keep abreast of them. At the same time it will guard and cherish subjects that have been of transcendent moment in the intellectual development of mankind in the past. It has been remarked that the by-products of an industry are often more valuable than the parent industry itself. Culture and higher aspects of civilization are sometimes viewed and spoken of as if they were by-products, but it is they alone that give to life its dignity and splendour.

The University begs that Your Royal Highness will, on your return, convey to our illustrious Sovereign and our beloved Queen its most dutiful respects. And it hopes that your visit to Canada will be one of Your Royal Highness' most happy memories - a memory alike inspiring to you and to the country that has exhibited such intense loyalty to your person and to the throne.

Memorandum concerning the visit of H.R.H. the Prince of Wales.

His Royal Highness will arrive in Montreal about mid-day on October 27th and will proceed to the City Hall where an address will be presented to him by the Mayor. The actual disposal of the rest of the time on this day has not yet been determined, but it has been suggested that a public reception be tendered to His Royal Highness in the evening.

October 28th. will be Soldiers' and Sailors' Day. He will visit the Harbour in the morning, and probably lay the corner stone for the Sailors' Memorial. He will inspect a large parade of returned soldiers in the afternoon, and there will be a military dinner for him in the evening.

October 29th. His Royal Highness will leave Montreal early in the morning for Sherbrooke and will return in the evening. It is possible that a dinner may be given to him in the evening.

October 30th. He will visit the Khaki Club and certain other institutions in the City. He will attend a Convocation at McGill University where he will receive an honorary degree. He will probably also attend a Convocation at Laval University which will confer upon him a like honour. There will be a dinner, reception or ball in the evening.

October 31st. He will leave Montreal in the morning, possibly by motor, and will visit Macdonald College, arriving in Ottawa in the afternoon.

My dear Sir Arthur;

I have been trying this week to clear my slate regarding the details in connection with the Scottish tour, and one of the things uppermost in my mind is to write you a line of appreciation of your kind assistance at the Banquet. It was a great pleasure to have you there, and it was a great inspiration to listen to what you had to say. I am afraid everyone did not hear it notwithstanding the fact that, speaking generally, I think you did remarkably well considering the mixed nature of the gathering, and the temptation which many had to take full and frequent advantage of the hospitality of a Province to which they did not belong.

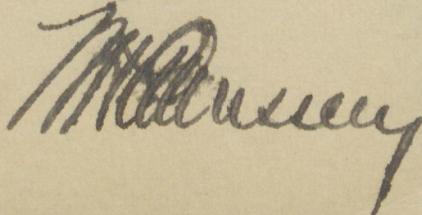

It was a strenuous evening, followed by, for me, many strenuous days and nights. We got away to a good start and maintained the pace until Wednesday morning of the following week. I rather imagine the Scottish Team will not forget Montreal.

I wish you would drop in at the Thistle Rink and see the Stratheona Cup. If you have not done so you will find it worth while.

Again thanking you for your willing assistance, I remain,

Very sincerely yours,

General Sir Arthur Currie,
Montreal.

Dear Sir:-

I am this morning in receipt of the following letter from General Pershing:

"I owe you many apologies for my failure to acknowledge your letter of October 17th, transmitting the invitation from the Executive Committee of the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair to exhibit some of my horses. The letter in some fashion was side-tracked, as it were, and just came to light yesterday, and while it would not have been possible for me to have sent the horses to Toronto this winter, yet I am much embarrassed at having seemed so negligent in acknowledging your courtesy. I hope you will be good enough to inform the members of the Executive Committee of what happened and present my apologies and regrets."

General Sir Arthur Currie,

Sir:-

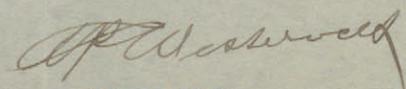

The Royal Winter Fair to be held in the City of Toronto, November 22nd to 29th, promises to be the largest one of its kind ever attempted in the British Empire.

The Management have appointed a special Horse Show Committee composed of leading men of Toronto, of which Mr. George W. Beardmore, M.F.H., is Honorary Chairman and Lt.-Col. H. C. Cox, President of the Canada Life Assurance Association, is Chairman, to look after the Horse Show Department of the Winter Fair. This Committee is arranging for a very large exhibit and just now it would seem that a special effort should be made to secure American exhibits. The result of having prominent Americans visit us for the week of the Show, should, from a national standpoint, be a very commendable feature.

The Executive Committee instructed me to write you to solicit your services in securing for exhibition the show horses of General Pershing. The Committee, recognizing the outstanding position you occupy in Canadian national life, feel that a letter from you to General Pershing respectfully urging him to exhibit his horses would not only be a valuable asset to the Exhibition but would have an exceptional effect on international relations. Therefore, we respectfully ask that you give favorable consideration to our request. We took the liberty of writing you, recognizing your great interest in Canadian live stock and agriculture as well as the national life of Canada.

Believe me,

Yours very respectfully,

Manager

Dear General Pershing:-

I have been asked by the Executive Committee of the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair to write to you and urge you to shew your horses at this Fair.

I have never attended it but I believe that it is a very good Show indeed. You will note that it is under the patronage of the Governor General His Excellency, Lord Byng, and I can give you the assurance that I, personally, know many of the members of the Committee. Their standing is such as to ensure the Show being a first class exhibition. I know that the exhibition of your horses would be very much appreciated not only by the Fair management but by the people generally.

No doubt, the Executive have already written to you, so that I need say nothing of the possible advantages that would accrue other than the good political effect of a visit by yourself to Toronto.

With all good wishes, I am,

Dear Sir Arthur

Sept. 10. 1931

I have the honour to send you the accompanying invitation to the Celebration of the 250th Anniversary of the Foundation of this College, along with a Provisional Programme of the proceedings.

The College is desirous of the presence of as many of its Honorary Fellows as possible and I am to express the hope that you may at least find it convenient to attend the Dinner to be held on Tuesday the 1st December.

It would facilitate our arrangements if you could let me have an answer as soon as possible.

Sir Norman Walker, Kt., M.D., LL.D.,
Treasurer, The Royal College of Physicians,
Edinburgh, Scotland.

I am this morning in receipt of your letter of September 10th, which accompanied the invitation to the celebration of the 250th Anniversary of the Foundation of the Royal College of Physicians.

It is a matter of great regret to me that I cannot be present. There is no distinction among all those I have received that I value more highly than the honour conferred on me in 1921 by the Royal College of Physicians, and I have often wondered what I might do to mark my appreciation.

I hope that some time it will be my good fortune to be in Edinburgh when the Fellows dine, or have some other function which I could attend. Will you please convey to the Fellows my most sincere good wishes?

Ever yours faithfully,

September 22, 1931.

Sir Norman Walker, Kt., M.D., LL.D.,
IX Queen Street,
Edinburgh, Scotland.

I have often thought of your kindness to me during the winter of 1928-29 when you gave me such good advice regarding my physical condition. You will be glad to know that I am feeling better than I have for the last three years. The sugar condition seems to have cleared up entirely, and as long as I am sensible and don't get a chill and don't become over-fatigued, I get along very well indeed. I went through my five months' visit to India, China and Japan without a single evidence of discomfort.

I hope that all goes well with you. Will you please remember me most kindly to Sir Harold Stiles, and in particular also to the Reverend Mr. Patterson, (who, I see, is to preach to you at the time of the celebration). I rejoice to know that he is well enough to undertake such a task.

Ever yours faithfully,

Dear Mr. Wilson,

It was extremely kind of you and the Directors of the Bank to entertain me so hospitably yesterday. Dear Sir,

There is at present a balance of $162.54 at the credit of Capital Account in our books representing uninvested funds.

As an investment for these funds we suggest the purchase of the following:

	Approx. Market Pr.	Yield %	Now Held
$100 Dominion of Canada 3-1/2% Bond due 1944-49	104.75	2.86	$200

There are not many issues of Dominion of Canada bonds procurable in $100. denominations and the security suggested above represents one of the lowest premium bonds at this time.

We draw this matter to your attention as we understand you are not partial to the purchase of bonds at a premium and would prefer bonds at a discount.

We shall be pleased to receive your instructions in this connection in due course.

Coronation Ode

Lord God, by Whom the Heavens stand,
The source from whence they came,
Who holdest nations in Thy Hand,
And call'st the stars by name,
Thine ageless forces do not cease
To mould us as of yore—
The chiselling of the arts of peace
The anvil-strokes of war.

Bind Thou our Realms in brotherhood,
Just laws and equal rights,
Let each uphold the Empire's good
In freedom that unites ;
And make that speech whose accents roll
Down broadening streams of time,
The harbinger, from pole to pole,
Of love and peace sublime.

And now from all the bounds of earth,
Neath warm or wint'ry skies,
From men of every creed and birth,
Strong intercessions rise :
Lord bless that royal Heart, we pray,
With all that grace can bring,
Who kneels before Thy Throne today,
Our Brother and our King.

My dear Mr. Stevenson,

Thank you so much for your letter to-day in which you tell me of the arrangements which the Club is making for the entertainment of the visiting Scottish curlers. I wish I could say to you now that it will be possible for me to attend one or more of these functions, but I am very much afraid that my calendar of university business for this week will prevent me from having the pleasure.

However, if it should turn out that I can fit it in, may I telephone to you?

Yours very sincerely,

B. B. Stevenson, Esq.,

Dear Sir,

As you are no doubt aware, the Scottish Curlers who are now visiting Canada will arrive in Montreal on Tuesday morning, January 11th. Some of them will play a friendly game on our ice Tuesday afternoon and will be our guests that evening for supper.

On Thursday, we are tendering to the whole party, twenty-one in number, a luncheon at 12.30 p.m., after which two games in the Test Match for the Strathcona Cup will be played on our ice.

Friday is Gordon Medal Day. Two rinks will be playing on our ice, and a luncheon will be served at 1.00 p.m.

The International Match, the Scottish Team and Canadian Branch curlers vs Grand National Curling Club of America, will take place at 10.00 a.m. Saturday, and those playing on our ice will be our guests at luncheon on that day.

As one of our Honorary Members, we should like to have you with us at some of these functions to meet our guests.

Yours sincerely,

President

THE ROYAL SOCIETY OF CANADA

OTTAWA, APRIL 22ND, 1938.

Dear Sir or Madam:

I have to inform you that The Royal Society of Canada will this year hold its Annual General Meeting at the National Research Building, Ottawa, on May 24th, 25th, 26th and 27th, and it cordially invites Associated Societies to send delegates to the meeting to present reports as to the work accomplished during the preceding year.

Delegates have the privilege, under the rules of the Society, of taking part in all meetings for the reading or discussion of papers, and their presence is at all times most welcome. If it should not be convenient for your Society to send a delegate, I trust a report may be forwarded for presentation.

Owing to the limited time at the disposal of the Society for the transaction of its business, it has been decided that reports of Associated Societies shall be tabled but not read.

In case your society or institution should decide to send a delegate would you kindly notify me a few days before the meeting, of the name and office of the person selected.

Representatives of Associated Societies will be formally presented to the President immediately before the Presidential Address on the evening of May 25th.

The Canadian Passenger Association has agreed to allow the Royal Society a special rate of a fare and one-third plus 25 cents on the Standard Convention Certificate plan. Summer excursion fares where on a lower basis than Regular Certificate Plan Fare will also apply. Delegates may take advantage of this reduced rate. Under this arrangement Delegates purchase a single trip ticket to Ottawa, obtaining from the Ticket Agent at starting point a Standard Convention Certificate. This Certificate should be presented to the Assistant Secretary at the time of the meeting to be certified, after which it will be validated by a special agent of the railway company interested who will attend for the purpose. Upon presentation at the ticket office in Ottawa of a Certificate duly filled in and signed, a return ticket may be obtained at one-third fare.

The going dates are as follows:—

British Columbia.....	May 18 - 23
Alberta.....	May 19 - 24
Sask., Man. and Eastern Provinces.....	May 20 - 25
Final honoring date.....	May 31, 1938

Return tickets will be limited to reach original starting point thirty (30) days in addition to date of sale of going trip as shown by selling agent's stamp on certificate. Validated certificates, however, must be presented to ticket agent for purchase of return ticket on or before the final honoring date shown.

Yours very truly,

ARTHUR BEAUCHESNE,
Honorary Secretary.
