

To W. O. from Dr. Flick.

Philadelphia,
March 16, 1904.

My dear Dr. Osler:

I have engaged the upper hall of the College of Physicians for three o'clock on Monday March 28th. I have arranged for a luncheon at the University Club at 12.30 of the same date. I would like to have you as my guest at the luncheon at the hour and on the day named. I have invited to this luncheon all the members of the Committee who met in New York and I shall be glad to invite any gentlemen whose names you send me.

The staff of the Henry Phipps Institute under the former program had arranged to give Maragliano a dinner on the evening of March 24th. Inasmuch as I have vacated the dining hall at the University Club on March 26th the Phipps staff has taken that date for its dinner. There will be present at that dinner the entire staff of the Phipps Institute and a few invited guests.

Any suggestions that you may wish to make in regard to the meeting or the entertainment of people who are coming to the meeting will be gladly carried out. If you can send us the names and addresses of the people who are invited to the meeting we shall be glad to send them invitations to the lecture and the reception and I certainly shall be glad to invite such as you deem proper to the luncheon.

Yours truly,

Lawrence F. Flick.
