Dear Dr. Helen Mac Murchy

Your kind letter expressing the sympathy of yourself and your household in the loss sustained by all of his relatives in the death of my late Brother is keenly appreciated. Every day brings some fresh testimony to his worth as a man, a friend, and a brilliant and reverent worshipper of science. He was greatly mourned and beloved and will be widely and deeply mourned. What a destiny was planned for the child of a small backwoods country Parsonage and how nobly he followed and fulfilled it. And what contrast between him and another William, in their relations to their fellowmen!

Thanking you warmly and sincerely, believe me

Faithfully yours,

P. Osler
