Dear Margoliouth,

I have been in communication with Turner, the Secretary of the Persia Society, about the scheme to repair Avicenna's tomb. I have got estimates from Hamardan, and I think we could now go ahead with the committee, etc. Turner wishes to know whether at the June or July meeting of the Persia Society you could give an address on Avicenna, after which I could say something about the proposal to repair the tomb. I could, if you wish, supplement your remarks with a few notes on the general position of the Canon in medical literature.

May 12 1914.

Professor Margoliouth,
Oxford.
