(Dr. Wm. Gardner: Introductory Lecture, 1879)

"I have to announce to you what this Faculty congratulate themselves is a most important step they have taken in providing the means for the practical teaching of an all-important subject. For some years the Faculty have contemplated establishing a Physiological Laboratory. Today I am proud to announce to you that that Laboratory is an accomplished fact.

Under the able direction of my friend, Prof. Osler, we expect that we will profit largely - - we confidently hope that this very Laboratory shall be the scene of many original researches by present and future students of McGill in the unexplored fields of physiology".
