(To Miss Jennette Osler from Mrs. Francis - fragment)

Some summer

. . . Gwyn is very good to him. He sleeps all night yet. I saw Brisk on his way thro. I took BB to the station the train was half an hour late Little B. found so much amusement that he absolutely refused to return home, & at last followed me like Shimei - threatening my death, to the amusement of passers by. - I am longing to see my little absentees. Willie returned (from a visit to the Molsons at Memphramagog) with an awful beard & whiskers, but after seeing the Medical faculty he removed it, their protestations of horror influenced him. I never saw anyone so burnt, he wore Percy's tam-o-shanta all the time - also his - P's - flannel shirt & Jersey, - they did not dress for dinner - not even shirt-collar or tie! - I am becoming too painfully popular . . . (torn off).

. . . Willie has gone off to Morrisburgh like a Vulture - an interesting case - he took his awful tools with him - could the young man be expected to survive that? Baby is riotous & so is the Puppy - both destructives. Violent energy illustrated. - Percy can get a return for same terms - 7.75 I gave him the wherewithal. I doubt your getting a Family ticket that way - but when you are in Toronto Percy can give you the address of the office & it might be worth while to enquire - he had no sleeping berth & endured hardships in the smoking car being too retiring to claim a seat in the other crowded ones. I have lovely flowers too, I am kept supplied by the public & a young gentleman brought me a magnificent lily tonight in his pocket h-f - I wondered what was coming forth (Dick Kerry) - I must conclude.

Yours loving sister

Marian.
