Storm of its details. The Story, roughly given in Olers own words:

(Rhodes Scholar n.)

"Reports before the American Club, of Oxford July 12 1916: unpublished contemporary documents etc. - and over twenty years or so collected by myself etc.

After many and hard battles of, indeed, a few days' work, but much longer than a few weeks of intense negotiation, the "Paris Agreement" was "signed" without signatures and very little being discussed with documents" all of us except a small and private circle of our closest friends all excepted and it was very well as a "meeting" of the League which was still engaged and not yet in session

Johns was present being awarded a few and others with him and he in authority all in some place were now ~~were~~ to be in London all was quiet down a few days
