D.B.Munro to Arthur Thomson.

Jan 7th 1904.

Bordighera, Italy.
(Oriel College Oxford.)

Dear Thomson,

Your letter has reached me here.

I sent your letter to Mr. Balfour, and in doing so assured him that it had the practically unanimous support of the scientific teachers in Oxford. The Regius Professor has sent me a further paper which I will send at his request to Mr. Balfour. It is a strong and able plea for Ritchie's appointment, and ought to carry decisive weights.

Yours very truly,
D.B.Monro.

We have had beautiful weather ever since the new year came in, and I think I have got full benefit from coming here.
