Dearest Gwen

It is so nice to hear that you are feeling so much better. You should soon be quite well and able to get back to civilization. You have been very good and patient through your long & trying illness. Few of us escape a heavy trial of some kind & it is so gratifying to think that you are coming out of it all so strong. Drop me a line or two when you feel able. Bill is working very hard. It is so nice to have him here again. He seems destined for Montreal. Bea sends such cheery letters about the School, & seems very happy. Isaac Walton, as I call Revere from his devotion to fishing, is making good progress in his studies except in Arithmetic of which, alas, he has his fathers lack of appreciation.

With much love

Ever your I dear ?

Old Doctor
