Dear Mrs. Curtis;

[Ingersoll]

Your name has been on the list to send that wretched lecture for weeks, but I have not had your address, and Miss Humpton has not been able to get it. This morning your letter comes, and I at once send you off the lecture with the greatest pleasure. I know you are a Teresian - in disguise.

Dr. McCrae has left the hospital, but Dr. Howard is still faithful and good. I hope you have had a good summer. Please come into the hospital for a few weeks at least before I leave. Make it this time a biceps tendon so that you will be able to walk about.

Sincerely yours, rc
