The Johns Hopkins Hospital,
North Broadway. Baltimore, Nov. 2nd, 1891.

Dear Ogden: -

Very glad indeed to have your note the other day. Your patient turned up and I gave her as good advice as I could. There is not much the matter with her except, as you say, nervousness.

. . . . You can just tell Appleton's drummer to hand back that subscription, as, for you, there is another way to get that volume, and I shall forward you one of the earliest copies with the greatest pleasure.

Why don't you send on that paper of yours of Alkaptonuria to the Medical News. I have a short note on it. I hope to go abroad myself next spring, and it would be delightful if we could go together. I have to attend the meeting of the Pediatric Society in May, but I hope to have the meeting early, so that I hope to get off about the middle of the month. Sorry to hear of your sister's illness. Should you have to go earlier, we might arrange in any case to join somewhere, and to take a month's tramp would be perfectly delightful.

Mercier has a streak of genius. All his books are good. I have no time for anything but this infernal "quiz compend", the proofs of which I hope to finish by the first of December. The Francis children are all well.

Sincerely yours,
Wm. Osler.
