

^{the University} the President and ~~his~~ Trustees in a confusion for different funds to enable them to open the medicine school. The name of James Hapkins still representative an individual to the Governor who had known him ~~rather than as~~ ~~and it was~~ and it was to be many years before an institution as some first to mind when the name was remembered. In spite of this it was a Bullfinch ~~and~~ lady who came to the rescue with a generous sum sufficient to erect the building, which finally became ~~the~~ Wall's Anatomical Laboratory, and to justify the organization of a school - the proper line ~~between~~ to hold together the hospital and university;

~~Following~~ ~~the~~ death of Mr. Hapkins which was not the organ of the Chief who was being copied for ~~which appears to have been the only one~~ ~~among the Hapkins men in Ottawa,~~ concerted effort was being made in Canada

George Ross had left vacant on a more the Chair Palmer Howard had occupied before him and a ^{later for the post} to secure ^(at any cost) ~~in the meantime~~ The matter had been thoroughly ^{resolved}

vitalized in the day, given ~~for~~ and apparently culminated December 15th when the faculty were permitted to announce the ~~forming~~ action of a generous benefactor.
 This is explained in a clipping for the press;

^{University}
 It is ~~to be~~ from his omission of any reference to this in the following letter to explain that matter was not being seriously considered at the time, or yet been ^{formally} proposed.
 (West Front Street or Else ~~had~~ not been ~~formally~~ proposed.)

