My dear Dr Osler,

The books - two - were posted today and I hope that they will reach you in good condition. The Letters will, I am sure, interest you but the Life is not very highly regarded by the family. It may interest you to know that Mrs Campbell, to whom the first letter is addressed, was Mrs Bridgman's mother and that "Nell" and "Nelly" of whom the doctor wrote is Mrs Bridgman herself.

I am sending you also a prospectus with Dr Drake's likeness on the cover - a reduced copy of a likeness which is liked by those who knew the doctor. I am sorry that it was so folded as to mar the features very much.

With kindest regards to Mrs Osler and yourself,

Believe me,

Sincerely yours,

W. H. BRIDGMAN.
