

Treat in Abs. ^{date} Dec. 19 1898

Dr. Cushing:

Dr. Finney has pooled up the literature on Hirschsprung's disease in quite an extensive article in Surg, Gynec. & Obst., 1908, vi, 624 and he says that:

Classical description of disease was given by Hirschsprung at meeting of Berlin Congress for Children's Diseases in 1886, but the condition had been recognized by a number of observers before this time and cases reported.

The earliest reported cases to be found in the literature are those of Parry in 1825 and Billard in 1829.
