My Dear Doctor,

I think to have a big generous heart and then to have the means of making it happy through generous acts and deeds is the nearest approach to heaven we can get in this life. I never saw a man who enjoyed giving as much as you do and I presume this is one reason why you are always happy.

If I should outlive you I will make the old Faculty erect a monument to your memory if I have to give all the money myself. I rejoice with you in the good work you are doing and am sure we will have the debt wiped out by the April meeting.

The small donations will come in later. Wishing you and yours the happiness of the Heavens and many more such,

I am truly sincerely

T. A. Arby
