Baltimore, April 22nd, 1902.

Dear Howell:

No, I cannot possibly take more than twenty-five men. All through May we have the undergraduates as well, which makes too great a crowd altogether in the wards.

I was very sorry that I could not get over to Gaule's lecture, but there was a meeting of the Executive Committee of the State Faculty at that time, and as I am chairman I was obliged to be present.

Sincerely yours,

Wm Osler
