Baltimore, May 17, 1905.

Dear Miss Charlton:-

May I consign to you two boxes of books for my nephew, Dr. W. W. Francis? Will you have Cook give them storage room in the cellar for a year until Dr. Francis returns to Montreal? They are all second-hand books and not worth more I should say than one hundred dollars. I do not know about the duty, but if you will send word to Miss Humpton she will remit. The carriage will be paid at this end.

Sincerely yours,

(Signed)

W. Osler.
