

(Typewritten)

CUS417/103.17

(Dr. H.V. Ogden)

7, Norham Gardens, Oxford

July 28th, 1905.

Dear Ogden:

How are you getting on? How is Mrs. Ogden? I hope she has had no recurrence of the trouble.

We are comfortably settled here in the Max-Muller house for a year, and I am beginning to learn the ropes. Fortunately, we have had satisfactory weather, and Mrs. Osler and the small boy have enjoyed it very much. How is our ochronotic friend? I was reminded of him at Leicester yesterday by finding at the hospital colored drawings of a most remarkable case in which the pigmentation of the face had been wide-spread and the diagnosis of Adam's disease had been made.

Sincerely yours,

Wm Osler

*Addison's?
(Dr. Ogden wrote the question)*

*As usual he evidently visited the local Hospital and left new found friend behind him and as an afterthought to his visit there ^{appeared in long} ~~stands~~ an illustrated ^{one page} ~~column~~ supplement to a number of the British Medical Journal entitled "To illustrate Dr. Adams Paper's paper "A case of Ochronosis" ^{and it may be assumed that this was done}*

¹⁰ Opposite page 1026 without reference in ^{the} index of the issue.

*at W.O.'s expense in the hope of ~~dropping~~ a paper on the Journal in paper to write an article on the describe the case.*