

This second visit to the Phippes - the boy shot one of the keepers by accident
 Received here this time - Compas his boy fell just as ready to leave - Passed night in darkness
 P. said "Really miss through the storm die of nervous depression" (Mentioned Mrs. P. had been in Baltimore for opening the 1st clinic & stayed there and fine $500 for extra house for the place for Louis Hammond.)

Dr. and Mrs. Yale-Shampson ^{here, the 10} ^{in Ballou sq.} ^{the a Smith Alder} who has the wonderful Mrs. She a Smith Alder who the present the Dr. Not Big came to Oxford.
 Great friends - in habit of coming here every summer.

Hence to Lochalsh - over the Highland Railway subsequently transferred to France during the war.

Wrote uncomfortable and the Jordan: the fishing boat except for copper coils they ^{family} crossed ^{with their boats in a row boat} to ^{Stape} the Kyleakin for a were a quiet little place with houses clustered about a ^{the King's Arms} green ^{and} on also fishermen white washed hotel. ~~They~~ Then they three played and fished and walked on the moor where one day they met a young man belonging and he has never forgotten the day. He found later the son of the school master at Kyleakin and when later found that he was a Edinburgh medical student he jumped followed him in a steamer now a distinguished agriculturalist but recalls:
 I had not then begun ~~the decade~~

great