"We have had a week at Beaufort and am more than ever in love with the charm of the Highlands. The Phipps' are having a very anxious time. (This refers to the shooting of some keepers by one of the sons of Mr. Phipps) We came here yesterday and rode through most glorious scenery which brought us to this lovely spot which is only half a mile across from Skye. We are going there to-morrow for a week at (what looks like) Kyleakim and then for two days at Oban, a day in Edinburgh, and back to Oxford by September 7th."
