

CUS417/103.76

W.C., describe Sir John MacAlister as "the man who forces the fire" a simile description of the actions which make things move and produce results. In the text also Sir John also laid the fire but it was sum to W.C. to begin it and ~~to have~~ to constantly add fuel, which force for John sumeth, to force.

12, MORNING GARDENS,

OXFORD.