

The Regius chair was one of 5000 founded by Henry VIII 1546 to teach which a year stipend of £40 was assigned.

King James I augmented it by annexing to the chair in 1617
the Mastership of the Hospital at Goodwin in the parish.

Later the Aldrichian Professorship of the Practice of Med. with an emolument of £130 was annexed.

Also expansion made against jurisdiction in Med by university
