Dear Campbell:-

I was very glad to have your letter and to hear that everything was going on swimmingly. We have had nice visits from both Martin and Lafleur, and Fitcher has just left us after a ten days' visit. I wish you could be here for the next week's festivities. There is going to be a great circus. The pageant is wonderful. I sent Marjory a programme last week.

Poor Dreschfeld died suddenly of angina pectoris the other day. He was greatly interested in your paper. We baptized the Royal Medical Society the other afternoon and had a most satisfactory initial meeting. I hope they are beginning to get things settled about the medical school. You keep your mind set on the teaching and the work and do not let practice worry you in the slightest degree. The trouble will be that in a few years you will have more than you can attend to.

Give my love to Marjory and Bill.

Ever yours,

W. Osler.
