Dear T.

So sorry not to see you and S. S. this summer. I hope you have had a good rest and are feeling fit for the racket. Do go slow - I know what a killing pace you are at, and there is so much to work for & so many things to look after. We have had such a pleasant succession of visitors this summer Barker, Fatcher, McCrae & Boggs. M. has lost his heart to Amy Gwyn. We had great fun over it. She is a sweet girl & they should be very happy. I wish you could settle Fatcher in the same way. By the time you get this you may see Rolleston. I am so glad he has gone out. Too much cannot be done for him - he is the friend of all Americans in London, the best & most unselfish of fellows. His wife is charming.

We are here at a charming spot in North Cornwall for peace preferring it to Scotland for that reason. Issac Walton has not such good fishing but we are in the sea every day & I have put him in the hands of the professional for golf and we play nine holes every afternoon. You must arrange to come to the D. c f In Med. next year at Wien, end of April, & then get a good rund-reise I am off to Berlin on 22nd with Nuttall to the Triennial Congress of Hygiene.

Love to S. S.

Yours ever

W^m Osler
