

To: SIR JOHN MACALISTER.

13, Norham Gardens,
Oxford.

Letter Script.

Thursday eve. 10 p.m.

Dear macAlister,

Let us attack them both next week, say wednesday. Return my proof — I suppose you will this eve. I sent it special this a.m. and I will forward a copy to Mr. Morgan and ask for an interview. We could see Mr. C., and put the case before him. I could not possibly come tomorrow as we have the Annual Meeting of the Hadcliffe Trustees at 12. Where is Mr. C. stopping in London?

Sincerely yours,

Wm. Osler.

P.S. I did not get your telegram in time to reply this eve.
