I will think over the matter and let you know in the course of a week or two. I am not very keen about taking on any new work; at the same time I realize that this is a matter of great international importance. ↗

I could not possibly come over to Holland just now, I am brimful of official engagements. I shall look for you in May, and you must both come to us here.

About America, I have already spoken at Baltimore about the Hatten Lecturship which pays 1,000 dollars. I will write again to Welch at once, I think it is perfectly reasonable that you should wish to pay your way.

Be sure to give me plenty of notice about your London visit. I was sorry not to be able to be at Budapest, but as I think I told you I have only just returned from a nine months Rundreise.

I am glad you met Musser and Cushing and Thayer, excellent fellows, and dear friends of mine.

Prof. Wenkebach

↖ This regards the question of the permanent Bureau of the International Medicine Congress, which was visited by me to the Hague and started its work in March 1910.
