Dear Robb

It was a terrible shock yesterday to hear of the death of Sister Isabel. What a tragedy for you and the boys! You know how deeply we feel for you in this great loss. It is hard to realize that she has left us - with all her energies & fine spirit. What a splendid career she had! I often think of those happy days at the Hospital. Could anything have been more delightful. And now all is changed but the memory remains- & to you too only the precious memory will be left of the splendid woman, who was my good friend & your wife.

Your old & affectionate friend
