(To Dr. W.S. Thayer)

From the Regius Professor of Medicine, Oxford.

Nov. 19th, 10.

Dear Thayer,

The plan you suggest is excellent. A nice tablet in the hall would be very appropriate. In the Common room upstairs too it would be worth while to have on the wall a list of the men who have died while on duty. Will you speak about it to Hurd and Norton.

With love to Sister Susan,

Sincerely yours,

Wm. Osler.

All well here - very busy, - academically. I'm happy, except classically. Often wish I were back, but - Did you ever by the way read Voltaire's famous But letter. I have just been reading his life. I suppose had I remained it would have been out at the cemetery, and this is better!
Still I had a splendid innings - nothing to regret and no blur on the picture as I look back.
