Dr. C. P. Howard

Dear Campbell:

The light of your life is well and happy, very delighted with your letters, as the poor girl was feeling desolated at their delay. She is looking very well, and has everything really very comfortable.

There is a hitch about those books, as each one of them exceeds the weight limit of the Smithsonian. It would make a very heavy box. Perhaps the University will be having books sent out from London to the library, in which case they could all go together.

McCrae and I have been very busy at the text book. I hope to make a very thorough revision. Let me have any special memos in the way of corrections or suggestions,

Sincerely yours,

Wm. Osler.
