Dear Harry T.-

What a distressing thing about poor Mary Worthington!

I am afraid she has got that miserable infection on her valves. Give the poor lassie my love.

It is nice to hear that Hal is at work again. About the text-book, many thanks for your kind help. I have jotted down a good many new things, re-written one or two of the minor sections, and have written a new article entirely on poliomyelitis. I do not see how we can possibly avoid putting that into the "Acute Infections" any more than cerebrospinal fever. It does make it a little complicated in dealing with meningitis, but I don't see that it can be helped. As for any of the other things--it is as much yours as mine, so that you just take any liberties you like. I will try to get the section ready as soon as possible and let you have it. I don't suppose they will begin to print it before the 1st. May.

With kind regards,

Sincerely yours,

Wm. Osler,
