(Dr. Lewellys Barker)

FROM THE REGIUS PROFESSOR OF MEDICINE, OXFORD.

15th May, 1912.

Dear Barker,

That was an awful chromo you received, but it was done by a poor devil who makes his living by these jobs. It should have reached you months ago.

What greedy devils they are at Harvard; they might as well transfer the whole faculty! I do hope Mall will not go. I am very glad that Remsen has resigned: things were getting a little warm I hear. We were so delighted to hear that the fund for Miss Bonner reached such a good sum.

I wish you were to be over at Dublin, but Christian, who has been here for a couple of days, tells me Thayer is coming. You and Müller have been asked to open the arthritis discussion at the Congress here. The Committee felt that the introductions could be better dealt with by general clinicians than by specialists. You can deal with the question in any way you see fit, or take up any special section. I think the important matter is to try to clarify a rather obscure section.

We had a very nice holiday in Italy, and Revere came back feeling perfectly well, and has returned to school.

Love to the family, and to Miss Humpton.

Sincerely yours,

W^m Osler
